Drink deeply of old Sussex here, with the wonderful, match-boarded old bar rooms, wood and sealed-brick floors oozing character and a lawned beer garden looking out to that famous Sussex character, the Long Man of Wilmington. Dine in the bar, the Garden Room, or the more formal Dining Room; the daily-changing menu relies on the best local materials; perhaps slow-roast belly of pork with apple and sausage cassoulet or local game mixed grill with a red wine sauce. Bar snacks and Sussex Cheddar ploughman's are also available, perhaps washed down with the pub's own Oxhead Bitter from Dark Star Brewery or any of 17 wines by the glass.
